

PRESS INFORMATION

NEW MINIATURISED CAMERA SYSTEM FROM plettac

The plettac 930 is not so much a camera in its own right, but rather a camera system. The FAC930L has been designed to ensure that there is a good value solution for every application. Due to its flexible design and installation structure, it can be easily integrated into any existing CCTV System. There are two models available, the FAC930 and the FAC930L, which offers frame integration and therefore extra low light capability.

The FAC930 is a small, compact camera, suitable for indoor or outdoor applications. The vital camera hardware has been miniaturised to reduce the overall size of the camera body, which is only 70mm x 57mm, to allow easy and discrete installations into the existing aesthetics of any building or situation. The number of standard features available with the plettac FAC930 has been enhanced. Features such as choice of the lens to suit the application, excellent picture quality, user memory configuration, remote control and automatic white balance are all standard.

The FAC930 camera series is flexible in all aspects, not only in design and installation, but it can also be used indoors or outdoors. Special indoor housings are available, which blend into any background environment and can therefore be suitable for any application. Weatherproof outdoor housings are also available, which allow the camera to cope easily with adverse weather conditions, such as rain, snow, hail and mist without loss of picture quality or reducing overall performance levels.

The FAC930 camera is an ideal addition to any existing CCTV system, as it is compatible with many other technologies, but it is particularly well adapted to plettac's new LCD-TFT monitors and the plettac open security architecture (p.o.s.a) management system.

The new FAC930L, along with other products in the plettac range can all be viewed at:
www.plettac-security.co.uk

For more information:

Ken Woolley
plettac Security UK Ltd
Unit 39
Sir Frank Whittle Business Ctr
Rugby
Warwickshire
CV21 3XH

Tel: 0844 800 1725

Fax: 01788 544 549

E: sales@plettac-security.co.uk

W: www.plettac-security.co.uk